Analysis of feedback (on all aspects) (2014 – 2015)

The curricular activities of the institution are monitored to ensure efficacy, through various feedbacks collected periodically from students, their parents and occasionally from the alumnae also. The feedbacks collected on various specified activities of all the departments are roped in for analysis. The various curricular and co-curricular activities and the impact felt by the beneficiaries are consolidated and listed as follows:

Orientation programme

Freshers feel that it is mandatory to know about the institution, courses offered, subjects to be learnt, scholarships extended, and all curricular and co-curricular activities which would be eventually held in the departments. 100% of the students found the Orientation Programme useful.

Freshers Test

All the freshers are expected to take the Freshers test. Marks are recorded, but the students do not get to know their score. 80% of the students do not know where they stand in such an evaluation. One Department has put on record that it in 'no way helps in grading the students' ability'.

Bridge Course

100% of the students find this course an effective way to relax in a new environment. They get to know the importance of learning English and enough room is provided to help them to open up to an English speaking environment.

Student Support Services

The Student Support Services are accessible to about 85% of the students. It is felt that 'Grievance Redressal' has not be effectively been carried. This is one dark area wherein focus may be increased.

Student Teaching Student

90% of the students who acted as student teachers claimed to have developed high level of confidence and interest in the subject. But it is also observed that clarity of expression is to be enhanced and feedback should be collected from the listeners of the classes also, in a wide scale. From the feedback received from the listeners, 75% of them seem to be aware that such programmes will eventually help them in self development, through motivation drawn from peers.

Parent Teachers meet

100% of parents who attend the meeting are happy that their wards are taken care of, in a personal scale. The meeting has served as a platform to voice both positive and less positive opinions.

Assignments/Group Discussions

Students feel that these activities help in scoring marks. But more focus should be in extensive reading and conduct of such group discussions in a regular scale.

Value Education Classes

100% of the students agree with the fact that such classes are good for ethical enhancement and holistic growth. But the classes are not taken seriously and also not held on a regular scale. Hence it is felt that the number of such classes should be enhanced.

ANNEXURE II

BEST PRACTICE

1. TITLE OF THE PRACTICE: MAINTENANCE OF LOG BOOK

2. Goal

To record periodically the activities of the staff, the students and the Department in order to sustain and enhance the quality of the institution.

3. The Context

With NAAC Accreditation as an important factor in determining the quality of an institution, there is a need to document the activities of the institution at all levels. Hence every Department was asked to maintain a Log Book of activities.

4. The Practice

A Register was maintained in every Department. Members of faculty were asked to enter all the activities both individual and institutional. Some of the activities included staff/student participation in Seminars, achievements, trainings undergone, publication details, expertise shared, etc.

5. Evidence of Success

With documentation having become a regular feature in all the Departments, it was easy for the IQAC to ensure that activities were carried out as per the plan of action chalked out at the beginning of the year. Since all members of staff would make an entry as and when an activity was conducted, there wasn't any chance of any activity to be missed.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Lack of more spacious research laboratory is a matter of concern. More number of computers with internet facility is also required.

7. Notes (Optional)/Usefulness:

Since every activity was recorded, preparation of the self – study report at the end of the year was very easy. Moreover, details for the preparation of the Newsletter too were procured in an effective manner.

Annexure III

BEST PRACTICE

PARTICIPATORY APPROACH OF FACULTY THROUGH THE IQAC

Goal:

To ensure active participation of all the members of faculty in quality enhancement of the institution through the IQAC.

The Context:

It is of utmost importance for any institution to compete with other institutions and to improve the quality of the institutions. It definitely cannot be an individual effort. Therefore in our college, all the members of faculty are given a role to play in the IQAC.

The Practice:

The constitution of the IQAC has been formed as per NAAC guidelines. The teaching members of the IQAC are the Heads of the seven criteria. Every criterion head, has under her teachers from various departments. This has been done to streamline the documentation of activities. The Chairperson and the Coordinator of the IQAC discuss quality measures frequently and disseminate the same to the others through the Staff Council Meetings.

Evidence of success:

It is evident that quality initiatives are undertaken by every member of the Department. The implementation of activities is monitored by the IQAC, periodically and it can be seen that there is positive response. From the feedback regarding activities collected from students it is obvious that they are contented with the quality programmes offered.

Problems encountered and Resources required :

Documenting activities then and there demands that prompt work has to be extracted from all members. This is not possible at all times from all members. But this can be eliminated by proper motivation .

Infrastructure facilities for the functioning of all the Associations/ Clubs/Forums are the need of the hour.
