Report of the International Seminar on "Prospective Areas of Research in Computer Science with Healthcare Data" held on 9th and 10th August 2018

The Department of Computer Science and Zoology in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of A.P.C. Mahalaxmi College for Women, Thoothukudi organized a two day international seminar on Prospective Areas of Research in Computer Science with Healthcare Data on 9th and 10th August, 2018.

Dr. T. Lilly Golda, the IQAC Coordinator of APCM College, welcomed the attendees. Dr. A. Manivanna Boopathi from the Ministry of Education in Bahrain delivered the inaugural address, emphasizing interdisciplinary collaboration in advancing healthcare through computer science research. Dr. K. Sathya Barna, the Principal of APCM College, offered her felicitations and expressed her support for such academic endeavours.

The seminar unfolded with a series of enlightening lectures delivered by eminent scholars in the field. Dr. A. Manivanna Boopathi expounded upon the intricacies of Grey System Analysis in the Fields of Medicine and Healthcare, illuminating novel approaches to data-driven decision-making in healthcare contexts. Subsequently, Dr. V. Subha, an erudite Assistant Professor from the Department of Computer Science at Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, delved into the realm of Predictive Data Mining in Medical Diagnosis, unraveling the potential of predictive analytics in revolutionizing diagnostic practices. Dr. S. Manoharan, an esteemed Assistant Professor from the Department of Computer Science at Ambo University, Ethiopia, captivated the audience with insights into Medical Image Retrieval in Healthcare Systems, underscoring the pivotal role of image analysis in enhancing healthcare delivery. Lastly, Dr. Velmurugan, an esteemed Assistant Professor from the Department of Computer Science at Ambo University, Ethiopia, shed light on the transformative potential of Mobile Health Apps for Patient Use.

On the next day, Dr. S. Sudhakar, Head of the Department of Biotechnology at Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, elucidated the convergence of Software with the Applications of Biological Science, unveiling innovative avenues for synergizing computational prowess with biological insights. Dr. K. Thangaraj, an esteemed Assistant Professor from the Department of Information Technology at Sona College of Technology, Salem, enraptured the audience with his discourse on the transformative potential of IoT in Healthcare. Last was a presentation by Mr. S. Raja, the distinguished Lead Architect for Cloud Computing Services at IBM, Singapore. Mr. Raja illuminated the audience on the paradigm-shifting capabilities of Cloud Computing Services.

Dr. V. Shyamala Susan, Head of the Department of Computer Science thanked the gathering. The two-day conference culminated with a sense of intellectual enrichment and camaraderie, as over 150 delegates departed with newfound insights and inspiration to embark on their research endeavours, poised to navigate the ever-evolving landscape of healthcare and computer science.
