

A.P.C. MAHALAXMI COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

THOOTHUKUDI - 2

CRITERION 6

SSR CYCLE IV

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.3. Faculty Empowerment Strategies

6.3.1: The institution has performance appraisal system, effective welfare measures for teaching and non-teaching staff and avenues for career development/progression

Contents

Faculty Recognition2

Best Department Award4

Appreciation for Achievements5

Gold Coin for Retirees7

Recognition and Celebrations

Faculty Recognition

The management actively recognizes and acknowledges the outstanding contributions of faculty members, highlighting their dedication and excellence in teaching, research, and overall academic endeavors.

Dr. V. Sorna Lakshmi, Assistant Professor of Botany is being bestowed with a cash award and a commendation letter by the management in recognition of her publication in a Scopus journal.

Dr. Samundeswari, Assistant Professor of Commerce, is being bestowed with a cash award and a commendation letter by the management in recognition of her publication in a Scopus journal.

Dr. V. Shyamala Susan, Assistant Professor of Computer Science, is being bestowed with a cash award and a commendation letter by the management in recognition of her publication in a Scopus journal.

Best Department Award

The Best Department Award has been conferred upon the department with the most outstanding overall performance and activities.

The Department of English is receiving Best Department Award (2022) from the Chief Guest.

Appreciation for Achievements

Dr. T. Lilly Golda, Assistant Professor of English honored for her outstanding dedication from the President, APCM College.

Dr. R. Anista, Physical Director honored for excellent achievements in sports from the President, APCM College.

Gold Coin for Retirees

Dr. Banumathi was presented with a gold coin by the management in honor of her retirement.

Dr. P. Bala Shanmuga Devi was presented with a gold coin by the management in honor of her retirement.