About the College

“Empowering with values and education”. This axiom has been the bedrock on which stands the inception and the ensuing growth of our reputed institution. A.P.C. Mahalaxmi College for Women, Thoothukudi, established in 1973 is the brain child of eminent scholar and philanthropist Kulapathi. A.P.C. Veerabahu, the founder President.

About the Department

The Department of History was established in the year 1974 and the pre-university course was introduced in the same year. The Department plays a vital role in promoting historical awareness and critical understanding of the past. Established with the objective of fostering academic excellence, the department offers undergraduate and postgraduate programmes that emphasize Indian history, world history, regional studies, heritage, culture, and historiography. The department strives to develop analytical thinking, research aptitude, and ethical values among students through innovative teaching methods.

About the Conference

An International Conference on Heritage, Culture and Technological Innovations is a scholarly and professional gathering that explores how cultural heritage and traditional knowledge intersect with modern technology and innovation. These events serve as global platforms for experts from diverse fields (academia, policy, industry, conservation, technology, and creative sectors) to share research, exchange ideas, and forge collaborations focused on preserving, interpreting, and advancing heritage in the digital age. They emphasize how technology can help document, protect, share, and revitalize both tangible (monuments, sites, artifacts) and intangible (traditions, practices, languages) cultural heritage.
